Fine Arts Association

The Fine Arts Association at St. Joseph's College for Women embodies the convergence of creativity, imagination, expression, and social upliftment. It operates under the guidance of the Principal, the Dean of Student Affairs, and the Fine Arts Coordinators.

The following sections detail the Policies, Practices, and Outcomes of the Fine Arts Association at St. Joseph's college for Women

Policies:

1. To recognize and appreciate beauty in both the arts and the humanity that creates it.
To encourage the student community to enhance their talents and skills.
To promote artistic discovery and excellence.
To contribute to social insights through various forms of art.
To maintain a connection with both tradition and modernity through art.

Practices:

1. The Fine Arts Association operates efficiently each year, beginning with an inaugural event that includes the election of office bearers and members.
2. The association's various programs, competitions, and activities are meticulously planned and organized by the coordinators and members through regular meetings.
3. Members of the Association inspire and encourage students to participate in regional and national events and programs.
4. Students are also motivated to engage with society, using art to educate others about social issues and raise awareness.
5. Renowned alumni of the college are invited as resource persons and judges for the association's activities.
